

Brielle Williams

Research Assistant

wllms_briellera@gmail.com | (914) 323-1288 | Yonkers, United States

Profile

Driven and enthusiastic research assistant committed to providing optimal research support that aligns with the mission and goals of an organization. Adept in assisting with the development of project procedures, data collection and the composition of status reports and presentations.

Work Experience

04/2018 - 01/2022, Research Assistant, University of Connecticut, Storrs

- Researched and collected data through literature reviews while accurately cataloging citation information.
- Interpreted and analyzed data using scientific and statistical techniques.
- Wrote and edited material for presentation and publication.
- Oversaw research and support staff regarding technical procedures and equipment operation.

01/2017 - 04/2018, Research Assistant, Yale Behavioral Psychology Lab, New Haven

- Scheduled and coordinated research activities.
 - Worked to ensure that results are compiled, analyzed and presented properly.
 - Coordinated a range of academic programs and projects.
 - Remained committed to managing all stages of research exploring issues of strategic management and the facilitation of cutting-edge science from conception through clinical trial to public benefit.
-

Education

09/2015 - 05/2018, Master of Science in Neurobiology, Yale University, New Haven

- Graduated Summa Cum Laude
- President of the Department of Neuroscience Club

09/2011 - 05/2015, Bachelor of Science in Biology, Cornell University, Ithaca

Languages

- Spanish; Castilian
- English
- French

Skills

- Effective Time Management
- Data Analysis
- Clinical Research & Development
- Analytical Thinking
- Biochemistry
- Neurobiology
- Agile Project Management